

M&E Consultant (m/f/d)

Your contact › Tatjana Mauthofer › jobs@mainlevel.de

At Mainlevel, we are convinced that it is the people in our team who drive the quality and innovation of our work. As we grow, we are on the lookout for senior and junior consultants to enrich our teams in Frankfurt am Main and Berlin with their experience, dedication and team spirit.

About us

Established in 2016, Mainlevel provides expertise in digitalisation and monitoring & evaluation. We enable organisations in the public, private and NGO sector to increase the efficiency, outreach and impact of their interventions with learning-oriented M&E and targeted digital solutions. We believe in the potential of ICT and data to help make sustainable development more effective, more innovative and more inclusive.

Our interdisciplinary team of M&E consultants, digital consultants and IT developers works together closely on assignments for a wide range of clients including GIZ, KfW, the EU, UN agencies and a growing number of NGOs as well as other international organisations. From conducting evaluations, baseline studies or gender analyses towards identifying and implementing digital solutions that support projects and make a difference in people's lives, we are proud of the diversity of professional expertise we can offer to our clients - to help them be more effective, more accountable and more impactful throughout their interventions.

Your challenge

In your position as M&E consultant, you are responsible for driving forward M&E and organizational development projects of interventions and organisations. You support your clients, in a team or alone, by providing evaluation and applied research services, and support to M&E systems and processes. Your tasks include:

- › Development of proposals for new opportunities within and beyond M&E
- › Implementation and management of M&E assignments including quantitative and qualitative data collection and analysis
- › Support to other assignments when needed, mutual learning and support among colleagues

Your benefits

- › A fast growing and highly motivated, interdisciplinary team
- › Working in exciting international projects, both in the global North and South
- › The opportunity to pick assignments that you are passionate about
- › A wide range of possibilities to bring in your skills, creativity and ideas
- › Responsibility for projects and solutions from the very beginning

Your qualities

- › An academic background in international economics / politics, international development, sociology, psychology or any related field of studies
- › Experience in development cooperation, gained through previous work or research

- › Practical experience in M&E or project management on an international level would be an asset
- › Enthusiasm for innovation and learning, ready and willing to take gradually increasing responsibilities
- › Having a consultant mindset: results-oriented, creative and with attention to quality
- › Team spirit, strong communication skills and intercultural competence
- › Language skills: fluency in English, knowledge of other languages (particularly German, French, Spanish and Arabic) is an advantage

Your application

The challenges outlined above speak to you and you'd like to bring in your expertise and enthusiasm to tackle them as part of our team? Then we are looking forward to your application (cover letter, CV and references) which you may address to Tatjana Mauthofer (jobs@mainlevel.de).

Please note that we only accept applications by individuals - not by recruitment agencies
